Manufacturer's Declaration on Model Equivalence

To Whom it may concern:

We, LogTag North America Inc., manufacture the digital data logger models USRIC-8 under the LogTag brand and the EV-16 under the EnviroLog brand.

To lower the cost, the EV-16 model is an electrically equivalent update of the USRIC-8, incorporating the following limited changes:

- The front and rear labels were re-designed to reflect the new model names for the EV-16 EnviroLog brand and product model.
- The USRIC-8 mechanical housing was replaced on the EV-16 with a heat-sealed plastic bag over a clip together rigid plastic case. The rigid plastic case is of the same material as the USRIC-8.

Besides these two changes, electrically and mechanically the USRIC-8 and EV-16 models are identical.

The changes do not affect the DO-160G test report as the same electronic components are utilised in the same layout and excited with the same operating software. The same enveloping shell materials are also used.

Hence the products do not need revalidation with an external lab. The existing DO-160G category H test report and compliance for USRIC-8 is equally applicable to the EV-16 model.
